Thanks for setting this up, Chris. If we want to people together in Portland (either part or all of the group) let me know. I can get a room.

Subject: Tentative Lamprey meeting schedule and agenda

Hi All,

It looks like everyone is available to discuss lamprey issues on 19 December. So, the tentative agenda is as follows:

1. Discuss the list of questions that I circulated previously (attached; questions in slightly different order than previously) with Stan, especially regarding issues about (1) logistical and technical feasibility, and (2) lamprey biology, natural history & physiology.
2. Discuss within the EcoTeam which studies we do and do not support forwarding to the LWG.

Depending on how long it takes to complete the first item, and how much time folks have available, we may or may not complete item 2 above, but hopefully we can at least begin the process.

The next questions are (1) what time to meet, (2) where to meet, and (3) how long to meet.

Unless someone wants to meet earlier than 10 O'clock, let's assume for now that we'll start at 10 O'clock. If everyone wants to meet by conference call, rather than in person (see below), we can begin the meeting earlier (9 AM) if that is desirable.

It would be great, of course, if we could all meet in person. However, that may not be possible / desirable for some. Because Stan is out on the coast, if we did meet in person, Portland (regional Oregon DEQ office) makes the most sense because it is centrally located for nearly everyone.

So, what are people's preferences / availability for meeting in Portland?

If you have any ideas about other agenda items, discussion topics, etc., please let me know.

Thanks much,

Chris
